How does the P3M Recruitment source better candidates?

First, we'll get to know you, your business and how you operate.

Then we have access to over 8 million candidates, social media tools and syndicated job boards but we don't just "copy and paste" your job description onto a job board and hope for the best.

Step 1 - Proper role research – We put real work into finding out exactly what you need by getting to know the role and your company culture – then we go out to market on your behalf to source the best people.

We act as an extension of your business, handling the initial response in the way you would, treating all candidates with respect and taking great care to protect your reputation.

We write bespoke adverts focused on candidate attraction to match your business or company culture, selling your business as a great place to work.

Step 2 – Selecting top notch CVs – Then we keep things simple for you by being extremely selective, candidates are selected and vetted by our experienced Project Management Recruitment Experts.

Step 3 – Telephone screening – We conduct short telephone interviews with candidates, to further refine our selection.

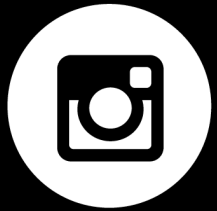

Step 4 – Video interview – Candidates will then be interviewed via Microsoft Teams to make sure we get to know them as people before delving into their experience and formal qualifications. The prospective applicants will be interviewed by our experienced Project Management Recruitment Team, before we put them in front of you. Once completed and a selection of suitable candidate is made, by our team the CV's and videos are submitted to the client.

Step 5 – Client Interview – The client then interviews the preferred candidates via Teams or in person, dependant on their inhouse recruitment process. Throughout the recruitment process we will keep you informed of progress and updated regularly.
